Rafael Development Corporation is a unique investment company that turns exciting ideas into successful businesses. RDC, 50.1 percent-owned by Elron (IDB) and 49.9 percent by Rafael Advanced Defense Systems, combines Rafael's scientific know-how, advanced research and development capabilities, technological innovation and resourcefulness with Elron’s strong financial base, extensive business know-how, and vast expertise in managing global technology companies.

At RDC we identify ideas that show potential and growth and make them come to life. Unlike a corporate VC fund, we have the resources to go the distance and nurture ideas from seed to sustainable businesses. This allows us to offer a more personal approach and guarantees that each and every portfolio company receives our full attention and support on the way to success.

Description:
Citigroup Global Banking, the corporate and investment banking division of Citigroup Inc., is one of the largest banking and securities firms globally, doing business in more than 140 countries. Citigroup Global Banking offers comprehensive financial advisory and capital raising and other corporate banking services to corporations, institutions and governments worldwide, providing advice on complex financial transactions including public and private equity and debt capital raising, mergers and acquisitions, strategic derivative transactions, financial restructurings and privatizations.

Israeli clients have greatly benefited from Citi’s ability to channel its global expertise across a broad range of products and services and geographies in key industry segments, including technology, healthcare, chemicals, energy, real estate, financial services and telecom. Citi has one of the largest full-time local staffs of investment banking professionals committed to advising Israeli companies and has advised on more than 125 transactions since 2000, with a total value exceeding US$50 billion.

Citi began serving Israeli clients over 20 years ago through its investment banking arm (formerly Salomon Smith Barney) and in 1996 opened a corporate banking office in Israel. In 2000, Citi became the first international bank to receive a banking license and establish a full-service, integrated banking operation in Israel. In 2009, Citi Israel established equity and corporate bond trading desks to complement its full-service trading room, providing clients with direct access to foreign exchange, fixed income, equity, credit and currency markets as well as various derivative solutions. Furthermore, as a member of the Tel Aviv Stock Exchange (TASE) and the TASE Clearing House, Citi offers comprehensive settlement, clearing and corporate action services to international institutional investors. Citi’s dedication to service and innovation has received recognition through numerous prestigious awards including the Best Investment Bank, Best Debt House, Best Equity House and Best M&A House in Israel by Euromoney, and Leading Bank in Shekel Trade among other awards.
